A creature new to all of you
Appears among these pages,
He's not a brain, his name will ne'er
Be found among the sages.

In fact he is so backward
That's how he gets his name,
Just spell out Newton in reverse
The "NOTWEN" comes to fame.

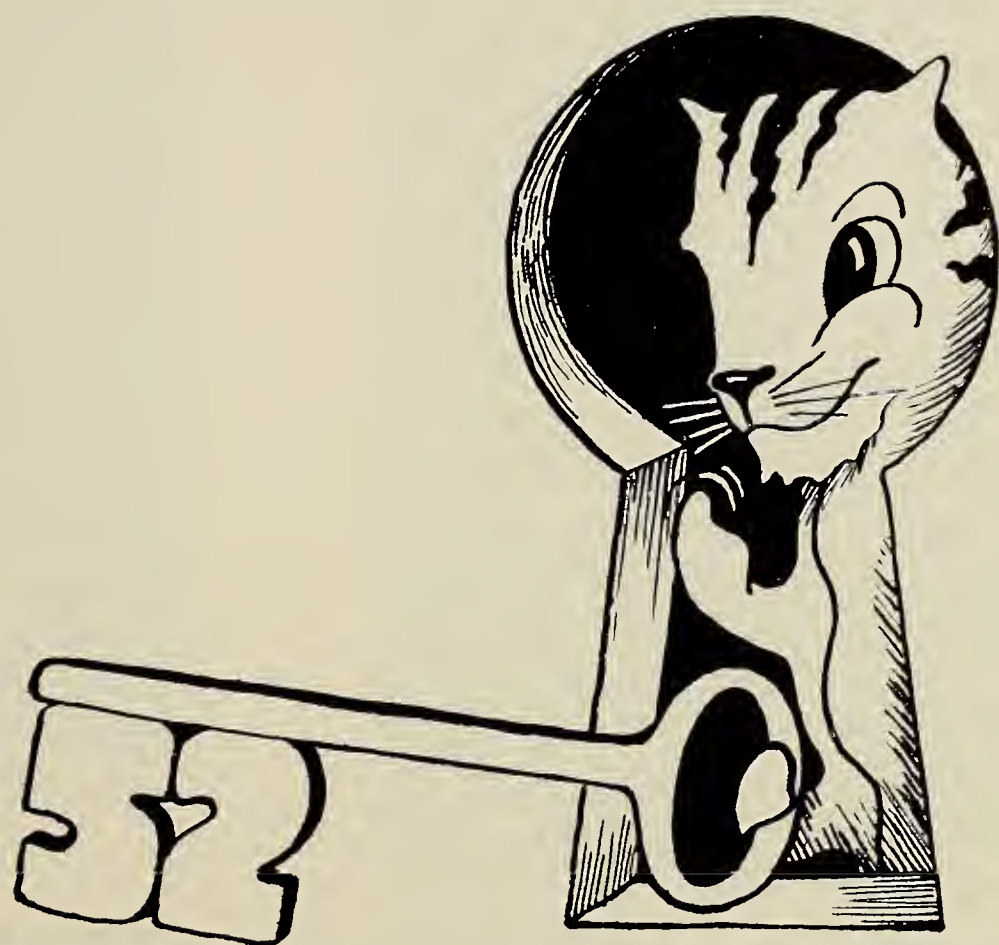

He matriculated long ago
We don't know just the date
And according to his guidance cards
He'll never graduate.

If ever your lunch is missing
Or your pen has gone astray
Don't blame some fellow pupil,
The Notwen's been at play.

Those blue cards you received today
Were not your fault at all,
The Notwen thought he'd give some out
To see your faces fall.

He never goes to classes
Like the other students do
He just peeks over transoms
Or gets a "keyhole view."

He can't be found just anywhere
Tho' his numbers multiply
He's busy making mischief
INSIDE NEWTON HIGH.

HIGH.

To cover the twenty-eight years she has served here at Newton High School as teacher, adviser, and friend, there really cannot be enough said about Miss Helen Cotton. Born, schooled, and employed in Newton, she is one of the finest representatives of this city and its high school. Since she came to the high school to teach in 1924, Miss Cotton has been active in the Junior Red Cross and in the Latin Club of which she was formerly an adviser. As well as Latin, Miss Cotton has taught ancient history and physiology.

After her retirement, Miss Cotton plans to do extensive traveling, then to catch up on some home gardening and civic affairs. In whatever she may do, Miss Cotton will always be remembered by the many pupils she has met at Newton High School who wish her the greatest success and happiness.

MR. RAYMOND A. GREEN

A great, tall man ambles up the corridor, head bowed in thought. A friendly man sits behind his desk, listens quietly, gives help with emphatic force. Here is a dignified Mikado or an enthusiastic supervisor. A man, our representative to the outside world, whose hair has turned more gray in our service. His strolling walk takes him many places searching out the best and the why's and wherefore's of student life. To us, Mr. Green personifies Newton High School. We will remember him many years from now as a man who loved books, travel, fishing, and people.

MR. LEO J. BARRY

Mr. Leo J. Barry, one of the administrative vice-principals of Newton High School, graduated from Bates College and has done graduate work at Boston University, Columbia University, and Harvard University. Mr. Barry has taught at Danvers, Massachusetts, at Northeastern University, at the Boston Centre for Adult Education, and has been a Visiting Lecturer at Harvard University.

Mr. Barry became a member of the United States Navy in 1944, was placed in the communications department, and assigned to the Philippines. After V. J. Day, as editor of the "Navy News," he was a correspondent at the War Crimes Trials of the Generals Yamasita and Homma. During his absence Mrs. Barry took his place as English teacher at Newton High.

During the past five years, Mr. Barry has served as director of radio of the Newton Public Schools and editor of the Newton School Age. Aside from these organizations he is President of the Boston Bates College Alumni and actively participates in many other school and community organizations. In his spare time Mr. Barry enjoys golfing and sports with his son.

MR. WILLIAM LAURITS

This year, Newton High School opened its doors to welcome Mr. William Laurits as its assistant principal. However, Mr. Laurits also assumed the directorship of the Newton Junior College. (In this capacity he was busier in the Junior College than in the High School.) His time and energy were devoted to teaching psychology, directing class programs, arranging student activities, and recruiting new students. The High School may expect to see more of Mr. Laurits in the future, though.

After Mr. Laurits graduated from Yale University, he served four years in the Navy during World War II. Later, he obtained his Master of Arts degree from the University of Chicago. Before coming to Harvard Graduate School of Education as assistant to the Dean, Mr. Laurits taught mathematics at Elgin High School and Junior College in Illinois. Thus we have both past and present of Mr. William Laurits. Let us hope that the future will bring him happiness and enjoyment at Newton High School.

MR. HARRY L. WALEN

Not everyone has been a deputy sheriff, a semi-professional skier, and an ardent camper during one life time. However, Mr. Walen is such a hard-working man here at Newton High School, he is no longer able to enjoy many of these pastimes.

A Newton boy, Mr. Walen attended Bigelow Grade School, and then Newton High School where he was editor-in-chief of the 1933 Newtonian. With a cum laude A.B. degree in English letters, Mr. Walen graduated from Harvard University. Later he received his Master's degree there.

Mr. Walen's profession is teaching. In that capacity he has taught at the Los Alamos boys' preparatory school in New Mexico, and also at Groton. From 1946-1951 Mr. Walen taught in both Newton Junior College and Newton High School. However, as Administrative Assistant, Mr. Walen teaches only two high school classes and the afternoon Journalism Class.

Besides his present-day hobbies of reading and going camping, Mr. Walen enjoys presenting Kodachrome slides of his many interesting trips.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Supreme Court of the United States determines the constitutionality of laws enacted by the legislative body. In a similar way the Executive Council governed all school activities. It, too, had the power to have final judgment over our legislature. Through the council, a democratic system of checks and balances on a democratic form of student government was maintained.

1st row: Hortense A. Church, John Kreider, Margaret South, Rowland Pollard, Raymond A. Green, Leo J. Barry, Agnes Dowhanczuk, Emily P. Burdon, David Segal

Only the most exclusive restaurants offer the luxury of soft music while you eat. Excluding those offenders who take a sneak — or is it a snack — preview of their lunches during S-Block, everyone in Newton High's cafeteria may munch his lunch to the strains of Shubert or Sinatra. This is only one example of the progressive measures taken by the high school law-making body, the legislature. The student elected representatives meet monthly to suggest or decide upon school procedure. Such a busy organization never had a dull moment!

Adviser Mr. Charles Peltier
 President Robert Morrison

LEGISLATURE

HOME ROOM MANAGERS

Arrested for embezzlement! Sent to lunatic asylum! Although the homeroom managers have never been headlined for such drastic misdeeds, this news would not seem so startling if we realized how trying the job of homeroom manager is. This group's main concern was tickets: the promotion, sale, collection of money, receiving, delivering of tickets. Without the patience and willing service of the homeroom managers, almost all the school productions might have been audienceless. Hats off to these loyal homeroom managers.

Adviser Mr. Carl Swan

In every section of the cafeteria, there was someone wearing the insignia of the Orange Shield. This year's industrious group of students existed for the purpose of enforcing lunch-room regulations which are necessary for a clean and orderly cafeteria. The ten captains and the chairmen formed the Lunchroom Board of Review which recommended any discipline which they deemed necessary.

RALLY COMMITTEE

Shakers! Jingles! Rallies! These were all the products of the Rally Committee to arouse enthusiasm in the athletic contest throughout the school year. This hardworking group searched for novel ideas to liven the spirit of the student body. The committee deserves a special vote of thanks for the success of their work was apparent in the spirit and turnout at all the athletic events.

Chairman	Agnes Dowhanczuk
Adviser	Mrs. Muriel Doucette

RADIO CLUB

Radios, amplifiers, jumbled masses of tubes and wires! The members of the Radio Club used such equipment to make new radios and transmitters. The rapid development of television provided yet another field for their skilled minds and hands. The members rendered many services to the school through their knowledge of electricity. In addition to their work at meetings, many journeyed to nearby plants and exhibitions. The club, too, was well represented in the Science Fair, where the member-made equipment and devices attracted many people.

President	Norman York
Vice-President	Paul Milott
Secretary	Michael Rotenberg
Treasurer	Paul Milott

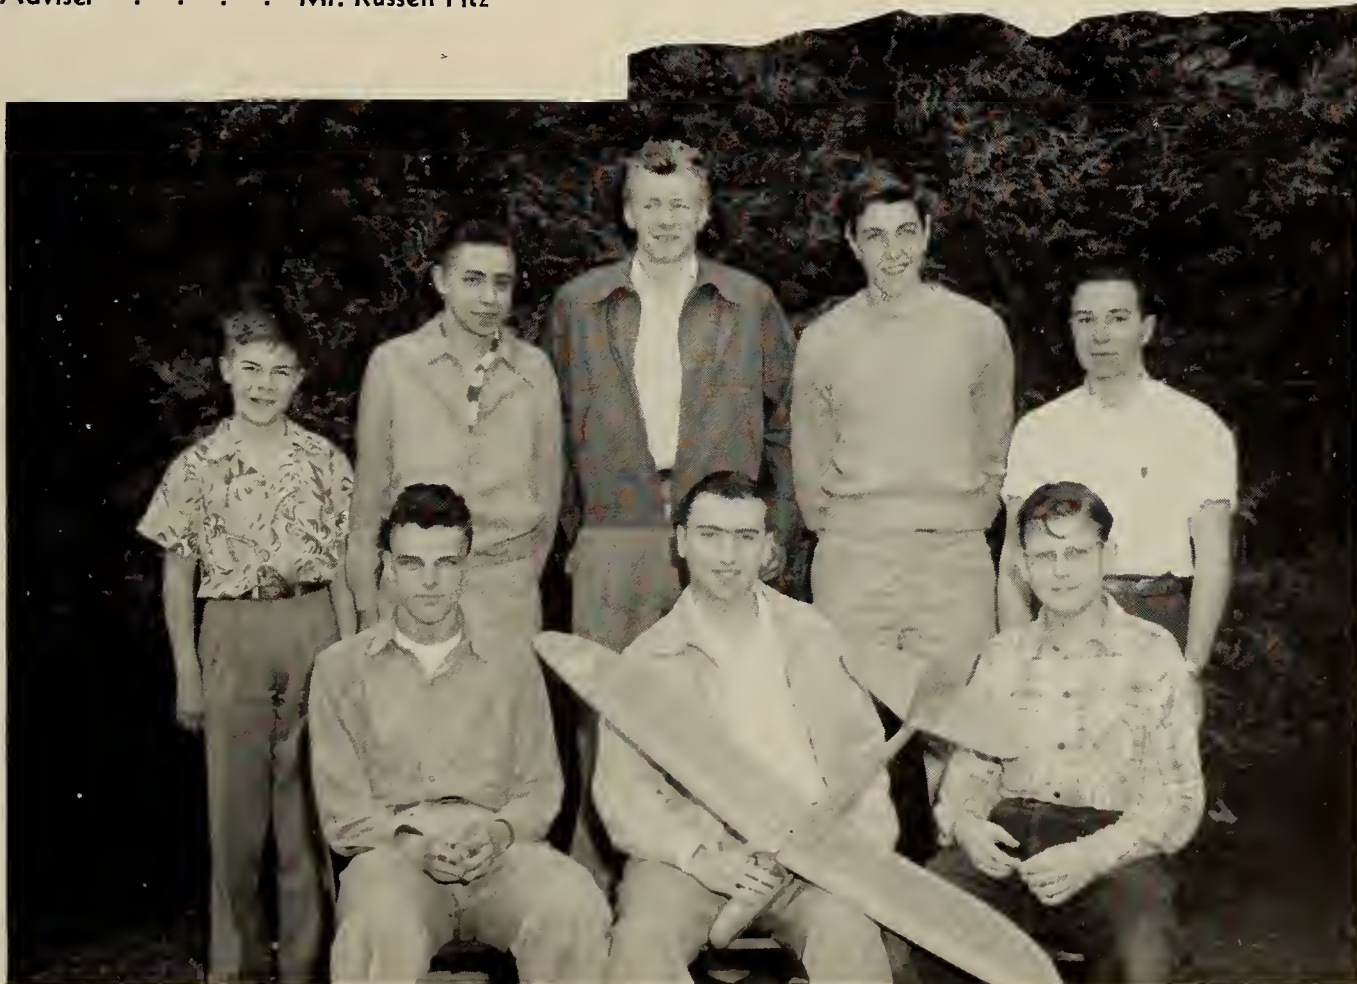

Left to Right: Nargesian, Lipman, York, Rotenberg, Milott

AVIATION CLUB

This club is open to all who share an interest in aviation and who enjoy making model aircraft. The member-planned programs included outside speakers, airshows, model-making, and movies. The members discussed such topics as construction of planes, controlling methods, and navigation. This year, since jet propulsion was of great interest to the members, they devoted many meetings to this subject.

President	Charles Shure
Vice-President	Gene Marx
Secretary	David Norton
Treasurer	Peter Sonakula
Adviser	Mr. Russell Fitz

FRENCH CLUB

Gay Paris — theatres, museums, schools — was only one of the many subjects that was spoken of in the French Club. Various speakers told, in French of course, the members about different phases of the life, land, and language of France. This year the club broke a membership record, so had to be divided into two groups. Such popularity proves it a très bon club.

Adviser	Miss Mary Waters

LATIN CLUB

To get into the true Roman spirit of Cicero's day, the Latin Club members revived the old custom of leisure and lounging in their monthly meetings. However, they did have some ambition and conducted highly active meetings. They played Roman games, told stories in Latin, and showed slides of Rome. The Latinates feel that their club meetings were enjoyable and a profitable way to learn more about Latin and the people who spoke it.

MUSIC

The Music Club, the largest club in Newton High School, was well-known for its student concerts, which gave the more talented members a chance to reveal their musical ability. During the year, the three student programs included performances by the orchestra and modern dance groups. One of the featured attractions was the personal appearance of various top artists in the country. The club played host to Mischa Tulin, noted theremin player, and Herman Gantt, an accomplished bass-baritone and winner of the Marion Anderson Award. The only requirement for membership in this club was an interest and love for music, and the members thoroughly enjoyed all that the club had to offer.

CLUB

ALPHA GAMMA TAU

At the monthly meetings of Alpha Gamma Tau the members united their interests in mathematics with discussions, ranging from simple arithmetic to calculus. Trips and speakers served to further this hobby, and the social activities were climaxed by a picnic at the home of Mr. Fitz. A more thorough knowledge of mathematics was obtained and practiced, as were unusual methods for solving some problems.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

What do you think of the Iranian oil well dispute? Do you approve of universal military training? When do you think Korean peace negotiations will end? These were a few of the questions proposed, debated, and answered at various International Club meetings. The members have held panel discussions about current world affairs. Also, the club was fortunate to have notable speakers from headline-making countries. The International Club's programs were not only entertaining; they were enlightening and educational.

DEBATING CLUB

If you had looked in on a Debating Club meeting, you would have been likely to find the members in the midst of a heated argument concerning school or local affairs. During the monthly meetings, which were conducted informally in roundtable fashion, each member always had an opportunity to express freely his opinion on some controversial issue. This year, the club staged a court session, with a judge, jury, plaintiff, and defendant. Despite all the arguments, the members mended all friendships at the annual party in June.

ENGLISH CLUB

Those interested in English outside the classroom, found the English Club the answer. This club, the oldest at Newton High, was, as always, composed of members of the junior and senior classes. The activities this year were a literary trip, the annual picnic, and an unforgettable visit to the theatre to see a modern play. The club also sponsored a talk by Rudolph Elie, well-known Boston Herald columnist and music critic.

This year, a new study plan was initiated, whereby the club was divided into four classes: drama, fiction, non-fiction, and poetry. Each group planned an event concerning its own topic.

The Junior Red Cross Council began its third year at Newton High School with a Red Cross Drive. Though a new organization at the High School, its purpose is as old as the Golden Rule.

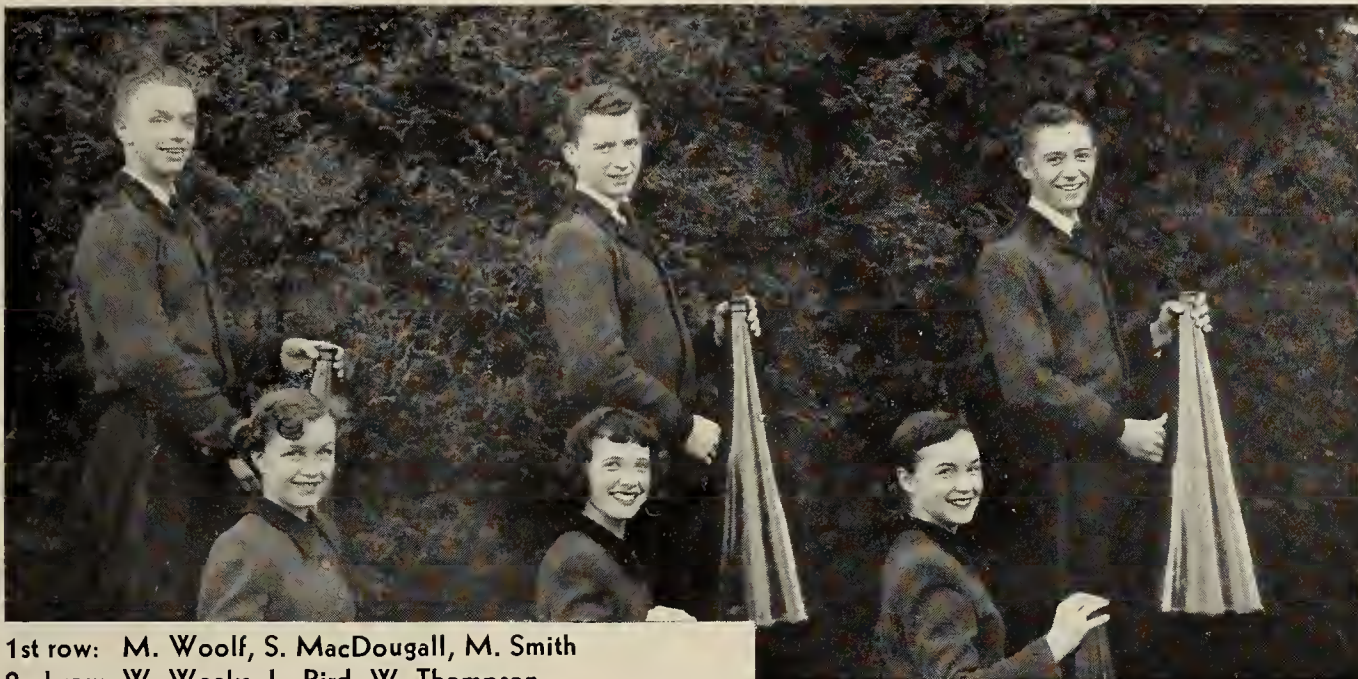

The council's other activities included visiting the Boston Blood Bank, and signing up volunteers for Nurse's Aid Training at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. During the summer months, delegates will be sent to the Junior Red Cross conferences.

SCIENCE CLUB

For students who enjoyed the sciences, this club did much to satisfy extra-curricular interest. The members were fortunate in having the opportunity to visit the Bradley Palmer State Park in Ipswich, Massachusetts, and the Harvard Medical School Museum. During the year these future Pasteurs and Madame Curies conducted demonstrations in physics and chemistry, and welcomed various speakers. Aside from their annual club project, the members played an important part in the planning of the Science Fair.

LIBRARY CLUB

By working in the teachers' professional library, the sample textbook library, the Junior College Library, and, of course, their own library in Building I, members of this club gained practical experience.

Besides performing an invaluable service to the school, these students kept up to date on current books and became familiar with all types of publications.

SOCIAL ROOM

On the second floor of Building Three is the ever popular Social Room. Every morning from 8:10 to 8:25, it was packed with students listening to records, talking, listening to the radio, talking, playing cards, and talking. This "relaxation" room was open to all students on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons. Monday and Thursday were reserved for special activities, such as club and committee meetings. Due to the wonderful job done by the student hosts and hostesses this year, the Social Room was always crowded.

ALPHA BETA

In this club, sophomores were given an opportunity to further their interests in drama and writing. Books, movies, plays, radio, and television programs were discussed. Through critical discussions of their own writings and readings, the members gained valuable information. The short story contest, which Alpha Beta sponsored, gave each member the chance to apply his ability to his own writing. The varied programs served to provide many enjoyable and profitable hours.

SCHOOL AND SCHOOL EXCHANGE

For the fourth year the Workshop in Leadership and Community Life participated in a school exchange. This time it was international; the group had an opportunity to visit Ottawa, Canada, in an exchange with the Glebe Collegiate Institute. The members, junior and senior students, had much to do before leaving, such as research work and fund-raising projects. The trip, which took place in late April, was a complete success.

1st row: Raymond A. Green, Kestle, Toscano, Mower, Mulock, Neagle, Bram, VanDeman, Mrs. Riley Hampton
2nd row: Conant, Dudley, Bigelow, Jobes, Woodroffe, Elkind, Eighmy, Bond, Mr. Floyd Rinker
3rd row: Miss Katherine Curtis, Winslow, Veinott, Budd, Gaffney, Howland, DeVicq, Haring
4th row: Come, Wetherell, Livingston, Johnson, Danziger, Cooper, Parker, Goldstein

OUTING CLUB

If you saw a group of girls skating at Bullough's, bowling at Newton, or swimming at Brookline, it may have been the Outing Club! Enthusiastic, energetic, and sports-loving, the girls had a fun-packed program. The big event of the year was a weekend trip to the Sargent Camp at Peterborough, New Hampshire. There the girls enjoyed skiing, skating, and dog-sledding. They did not set any Olympic records, but this active group enjoyed many good times.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

The Future Teachers of America is composed of a group of students who are interested in teaching and in youth guidance. This organization is sponsored by the Newton Federation of Teachers and is affiliated with the National Education Association. This year the club members helped in social settlement houses and also visited some of the Newton Schools. Other activities included a meeting as guests of the Boston University Chapter of the Future Teachers of America and discussions with Mr. Harold Gores and Mr. Raymond A. Green, as well as with other members of the administrative body.

STAGE CREW

Few who attended our many plays, assemblies, and rallies, realized the endless details of arrangement needed for a perfect production. The Stage Crew assembled and put up scenery, made the sound effects, and controlled the lights at all presentations throughout the year. These boys spent many hours at this work which was a real benefit to the school.

SPANISH CLUB

Each month "senoritas" and "senores" gathered together in "El Circulo Espanol" where Spanish was spoken exclusively. The members attained fluency in speaking the language through their monthly meetings, including a debate spoken entirely in Spanish, and their visits to a Spanish restaurant and a ballet. Representatives from various Latin American countries spoke, and a play written by the members was presented. The year was ended with a club party.

CAVALRY CLUB

Fall or spring, foul or fair, the Cavalry Club rode once, sometimes twice, a month. The members of this club, who are skilled riders, devoted time to horsemanship, and horse shows and rodeo etiquette. As an exciting climax to the club's activities there was an all-day outing at the end of the school year.

MOTION PICTURE CLUB

Out of the darkness, out of the silence, came a beam of light, a voice, a momentary blur and then, miraculously, a parade of life, science, or industry came into focus before our eyes. The magicians producing this magic were to be found at the rear of the room feverishly twirling knobs and flicking switches in a machine known as a projector. Because of their time and efforts, we were able to acquire information from films, records, and tape records.

Adviser . . . Mr. Michael Gradone

1st row: Stewart, Hopf, Hogsett, Morrison, Sherman
2nd row: Ladner, Cooper, Mr. Michael Gradone, Simmons, Gavini, Barbo

HUNTING AND FISHING CLUB

The lure of the trout stream, and deep woods, or the call of a gun or fly rod attracted an energetic body of students to join the Hunting and Fishing Club in order to learn more about sporting. True sportsmen all, the members learned through movies and speakers how to tie flies, shoot guns properly, conserve wild life, and cast with various types of fishing rods. Many thrilling moments to remember for a life-time occurred during the trips and outings held by this extremely active club.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club rang up the curtain by holding tryouts for new members from the junior and senior classes. The members of the Drama Club again experienced the thrill of going to the theater; this year they saw Edward G. Robinson in Darkness at Noon. They also participated in the annual Christmas Vespers in which they captured all the tenderness and beauty of the Christmas Story. A May party gave the final touch to the twenty-sixth season of the Drama Club.

RIFLE CLUB

The Rifle Club claimed a large membership of girls as well as boys. Weekly practices, held at the West Newton Armory, gave the members an opportunity to develop a skill with the rifle and to enjoy competitive shooting. The club's activities included the annual outing, and participation in the American Legion Tournament. At monthly meetings the members saw several movies, and as a fitting climax, received marksmanship ratings from the National Rifle Association.

NEWTONITE ADVERTISING STAFF

"Only a dollar an inch." These became familiar words to the sales-people of the Newtonite ad-staff. Obtaining ads for the newspaper provided the chief source of income for the production and printing of the Newtonite. The hard-working captains and their teams who scoured each village for needed advertisements, did much to contribute to the success of the newspaper. Congratulations to them for fine work!

Adviser Miss Virginia Altieri

Hurrying reporters scurried after teachers, harried editors berated tarrying reporters, calm printers wait for alarmed editors — such was the mad cycle when "dead-line" day for the Newtonite came around. Although every one of the two days a week that the Journalism class met was not as rushed, the amateur newsmen found much to do in learning about the securing and reporting of news, and the production of a newspaper.

Adviser Mr. Harry Walen

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Only those juniors and seniors who have a basic knowledge of chemistry were admitted to the Chemistry Club. By dividing into small groups, the members gained a closer and more thorough knowledge of the material under experiment. Lectures, discussions, and field trips also helped to stimulate the members' interest. As usual, the club made valuable contributions to the Science Fair. All the members thoroughly enjoyed the final picnic.

ART CLUB

Art clubbers ranged from the top of building one to the basement, from the art room to the ceramics laboratory. Each member pursued his own form of art. But not all was roaming! Some meetings were spent discussing various forms of art and art appreciation. Then too, there was the service group which made those posters and decorations in the halls at dance time, and who helped out when decorations, posters, or cover designs were needed.

PERSONALITY CLUB

A pleasant voice, good health, attractive grooming, manners, and poise — these were the results of a year's membership in the Personality Club. At the monthly meetings, open to all girls, the members carried on discussions concerning this sought-after charm with special accent on voice culture. The club's program also included speakers and demonstrations on all phases of personality. The year was highlighted by a fashion show in which the members themselves were models.

"Fairer tomorrow with temperature rising to sixties." Whether their weather forecasts were accurate or slightly incorrect, Newton's "weathermen," members of the Meteorology Club, tried vigorously to record temperature, barometric pressure, wind direction, and velocity. Since the founding of the National Honor Society in 1927, election to the group has signified the highest scholastic honor that any student in secondary school can receive. This year the organization was composed of five per cent of the junior class and fifteen per cent of the senior enrollment in Newton High School. A candidate had to be in the upper twenty-five per cent scholastically to be eligible. Then the pupil's service, leadership, and character were voted upon by the faculty. Any member was and is always proud to wear the golden pin, symbol of the National Honor Society.

HONOR SOCIETY

DRAMA WORKSHOP

Girls as well as boys are essential for the preparation in staging a play. The members of the Drama Workshop proved that this is true. The group spent many after-school hours learning from professionals the art of make-up, sound effects, and lighting. They used hammers, nails, and paints with skill in the making of scenery and props. Each girl had the opportunity to become proficient in one type of backstage art, such as make-up, and to watch professionals at work. The girls, who did excellent work, are a credit to the school.

NEWTONIAN

For some ten months the editors and staff of the 1952 Newtonian have been hard at work in order to bring you a fine yearbook. The work has not been easy, but with the completion of this book, it has been rewarding indeed. One of the goals of this year's Newtonian was to blend artwork, layout, and context skillfully, so as to give a true picture of Newton High School; however, the prime objective was to produce a yearbook which would be interesting and memorable long after 1952.

Adviser . . . Mr. Sterling Williams

ANTI-SMOKING COMMITTEE

This year, the fifty members of the Anti-Smoking Committee made a strong effort to abolish the dangers of school fires. Each was assigned a certain area to cover, in order to check any smoking offenders. Upon presenting their identification card, they were able to leave any classroom at any time to perform their duty. By fulfilling their jobs conscientiously, they lessened the fire hazard in the school.

SENIOR PLAY

When their little girls grow up and decide to get married, all fathers envision their morning-suited selves strutting down the aisle with a vision of loveliness. This dream is abruptly shattered when father views the blissful collaboration of mother and daughter to deplete his none-too-full pockets. The hilarious helplessness of father and the utter unconcern of everyone else in Father of the Bride made the 1952 Senior Play an uproarious success.

SPRING MUSICAL

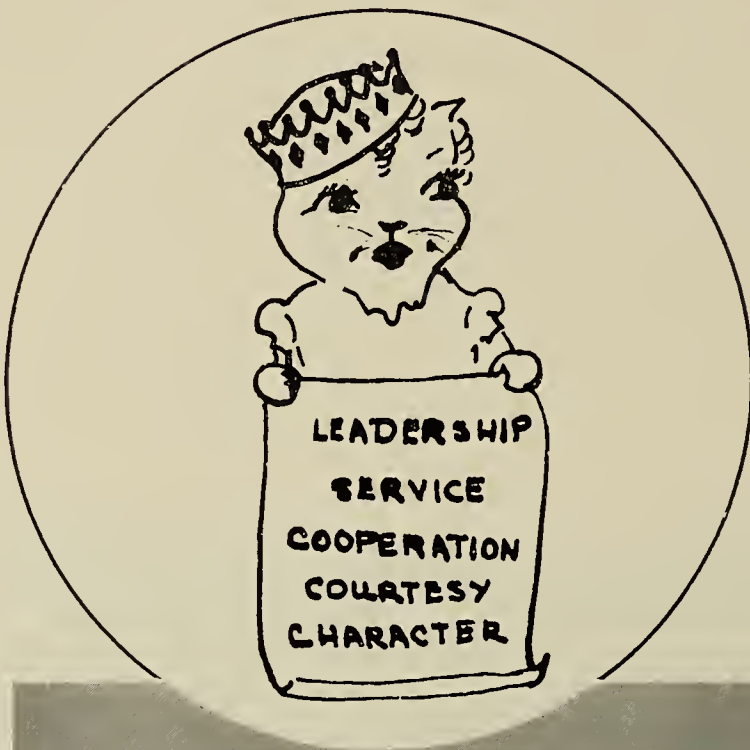

"On Stage Everybody!" was the cry from the wings. Newton High School's best was underway with the best musical play, the best writers, and the best performers. From the rigid Proper Bostonians to the loose-limbed Charlestonians, On Stage Everybody was a huge success.

GIRLS' LEADER CORPS

The Girls' Athletic Banquet, one of the most successful and memorable events this year, enjoyed by students, parents, and faculty, was due to the hard work of the Girls' Leader Corps. Members were chosen for their leadership, responsibility, and character, as shown in school activities. This group found enjoyment in service such as the planning of the All-Girls' Assembly as well as in the various excursions that are included in the yearly program.

ORANGE BOOK

"When in doubt, consult the Orange Book." These were helpful words for the bewildered, confused sophomores and their puzzled upperclassmen. A combination roadmap, calendar, and information bureau, the Orange Book solved problems concerning the whereabouts, the ins and outs, and the whys and wherefores. Like a light in a fog, this year's Orange Book proved to be invaluable to all.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The members of the Home Economics Club enjoyed many varied programs during the year. There was an occasional gathering in the foods laboratory to pop corn or make candy, and also many meetings dedicated to lectures and discussions on hair styles and personal grooming.

This year the Home Economics Club sponsored a show in which several members modeled the latest fashions. To round-out an enjoyable and profitable year, the club took a trip to the "big city," New York, where they spent a gala weekend seeing the sights.

Whether for the music of Beethoven, Bach, or Brahms, or that of some lesser known composer, the common love of classical music created the Discophyles. Many of the club's meetings were spent listening to various musical selections with discussions of the pieces afterwards. These fine programs provided enjoyment for all the members, drawn together through their united interest, making this a very successful year for this comparatively new club.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

A Cappella Choir is composed of over one-hundred voices which give their talents in many varied musical events. This year, these choristers participated in the Annual Christmas Vespers, the Spring Concert, in which Hayden's Creation was featured, the Spring Musical, and graduation exercises. The highlight of the year was a special program in which the A Cappella Choir had the honor and privilege of singing with Brown University Glee Club. Throughout the year the choir sent representatives to the All-State Concert and various New England Concerts.

CAMERA CLUB

"Smile and look at the birdie," says a man behind the complicated apparatus of a camera. Perhaps he had his start at Newton High in the Camera Club where students learn the mechanical use of the camera as well as how to develop pictures. The members of this group participated on local and national contests and had conferences with leading photographers and camera specialists.

Perhaps one of the Broadway-aspiring actors or actresses of the Neophytes will have attained his goal. This club has done much to promote interest and to give practical knowledge in dramatics. Various members have presented skits, one-act play, pantomimes, and readings — thus covering different phases of drama. The year's main feature was a one-act play presented at a sophomore assembly.

1st row: Flagg, Forbes, Rizza, Chatfield, Lee
Luciano, Morrison
2nd row: Sisson, Carder, Dauten, Wiper,
Thompson, Coffey, Fitzpatrick, Barisano

This year's team was Newton's finest in years. Paced by backs Coffey, Dauten, and Thompson, and linemen Lee, Rizza, and Flagg, the squad was one of the most respected in Class A competition. Highlights of the season, victories over Brockton, Watertown, and Haverhill marked the upswing of Newton High football. Instrumental in the Tigers' success were unsung heroes Forbes, Carder, Fitzpatrick, Luciano, Morrison, Kupersmith, and the Corner brothers. The Class of '52" can well be proud of their boys in Orange and Black.

2nd row: Kupersmith, Proia,
Besso, Snider, Robinson,

Collentro, Fitzgerald

Paced by the play-making of "Zipper" Thompson, the unerring eye of "Red" Fitzgerald, and the excellent defense work of Vic Voner, Newton skated to its most successful season in years. With important victories over Belmont and Cambridge Latin, the team kept itself in contention for the crown right down to the last game, when they were beaten by Stoneham and forced to settle for a berth in the first division. At the season's conclusion four Newton players, Thompson, Salvia, Fitzgerald, and Fox, were awarded positions on the G. B. I. All Stars. Of these four, only Thompson plus Voner, Rigby, Coffey, Lynch, McCarthy, and Hodess are graduating. Thus the prospects for next season are brighter than ever.

Led by such dependable track men as Morrison, Pollard, Gould, French, Newall, and Howland, Newton upheld its long record as a track power. Only injuries to letter-winners Snyder, Hayward, and Flynn prevented the team from walking away with new honors for our trophy cases. As it was, the season was climaxed when Paul Gould and Rowland Pollard carried the Orange and Black to Madison Square Garden and distinguished themselves by winning places in the National Schoolboy Meet.

3rd row: Cedergren, Manager Mentzer, Manager Cohen, Manager Silverman, Manager Cohen, Kattwinkel

Led by co-captains "Moose" Morrison and Arnold Haywood, Newton High hopes for its best outdoor season in years. Even Coach Lem Boyle admits, "We'll be tough to beat." Add the returned form of Mike Snyder and George Flynn to the excellent work of Rowland Pollard, Paul Gould, and Don French, and you have the reason for this optimism. Five other tracksters, Stan Geddes, George Howland, John Newall, Dick Farragher, and Vincent Meade figure prominently in Newton's plans for an unbeaten season. These nine athletes are the main factors in what we all hope will be a season long remembered at Newton High School.

For years Newton baseball teams have been representative of the best in schoolboy ranks, and the 1952 team should be no exception. Coach Howie Ferguson depends on veterans Fred Dauten, Don Flagg, Dave Bonnar, John Krieder, and Dan Coffey to lead the Tigers once again to the top of the Suburban League.

Standing: Fiske, DeStephano
Kneeling: Sade, Dunbar, Kuntz, Voner

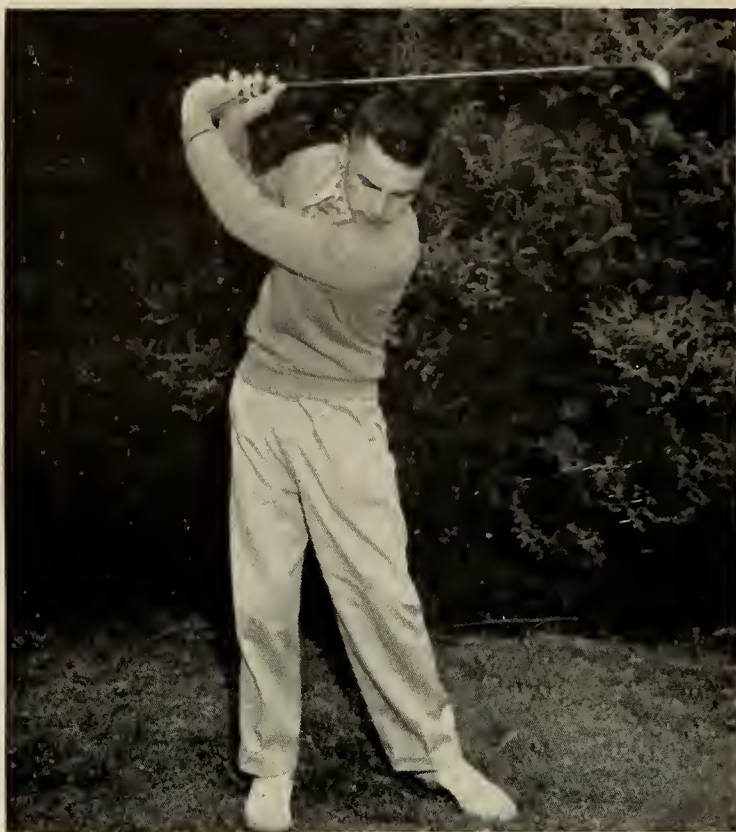

Kneeling: Rigby, Flagg, Krieder, Marcell
Standing: Schwartz, Forbes, Tong

Others expected to aid Newton's cause are Don Forbes, Vic Voner, Bob Sheppard, Mac Fiske, Curt Tong, Dennis Kuntz, Peter Rigby, and a much-publicized sophomore, Billy Hamill. With a nucleus such as this plus a record number of baseball candidates, it is no wonder that "Fergy" wears a broad grin this spring.

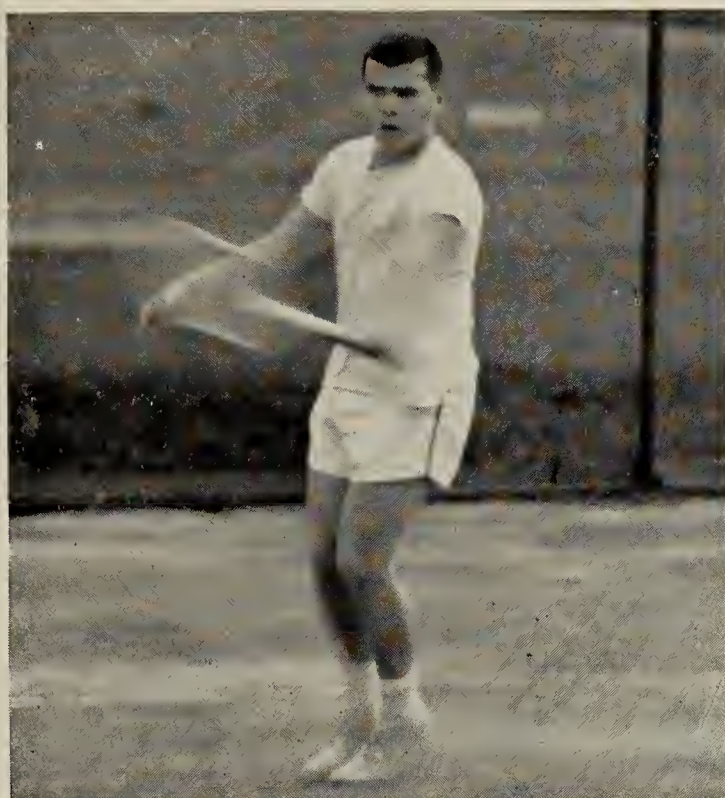

Kneeling: Flagg, McCarthy, Hamill, O'Neil
Standing: Coach Ferguson, Dauten, Bonnar, Sheppard, Coach Hawkes

The outlook for this year's team is extremely bright. With returning letter-winners Jack Waters, Frank Reardon, Jack Bellevue, and Joe Vertucca, Coach J. C. Hall expects Newton to repeat as league title-holder. He points to the large number of golf team candidates and the increased interest in the sport by students in recent years as tipoffs for a successful season. To Mr. Hall only an undefeated team constitutes a successful season.

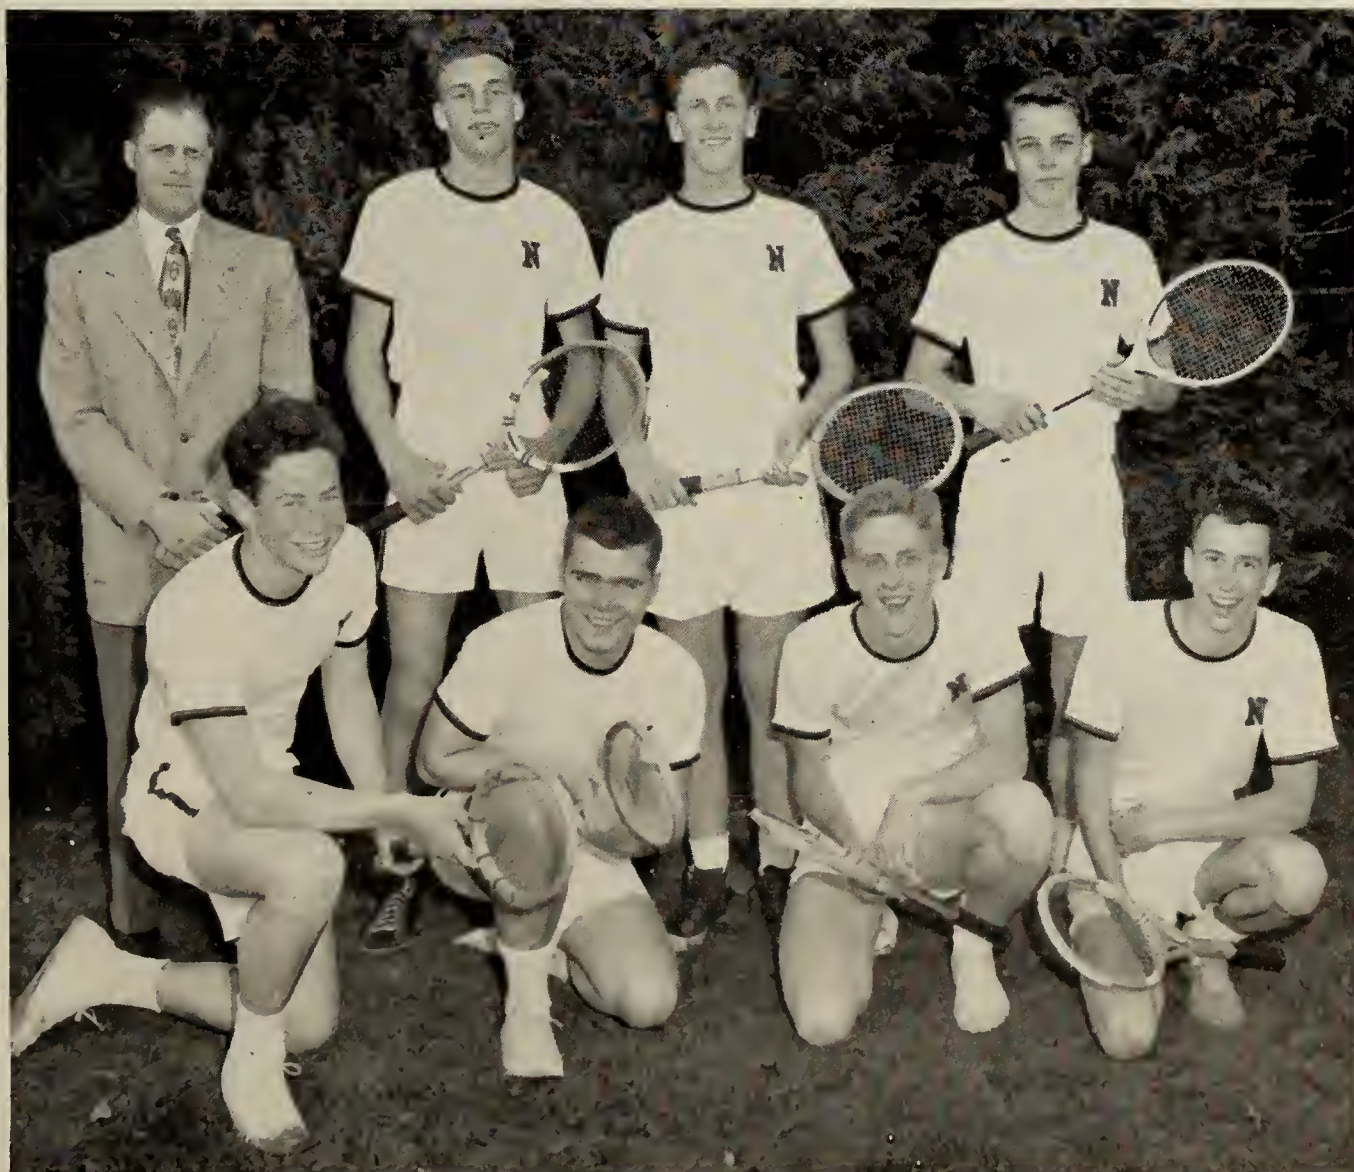

Standing: Coach J. C. Hall, Lyons, Hungerville, Hamilton, Wetherell, Bellevue
Kneeling: Wiper, Waters, Vertucca, Reardon, Sanders

Defending State Tournament Champs for the second consecutive year, Newton's Tennis Team looks forward to an even more successful season. With letter-winners John Marshall, Walter Tappan, Paul Lafford, David Segal, and Ken Lucas returning and the addition of a number of good sophomore and junior prospects, the team looks to an undefeated season. This is an even more difficult accomplishment than in other sports because the tennis team must compete against older, more experienced athletes from the state's largest prep schools. Nevertheless, Coach Ed Poskitt doesn't bear the slightest semblance of a worry at the first spring workouts.

1st row: Segal, Reddy, Fithian, Walker
2nd row: Mr. Edward Poskitt, Shine, Morse, Tappan

They did it again! The girls' field hockey team has completed another undefeated season. By displaying excellent cooperation and teamwork, as well as fine spirit and technique, Newton's team was able to overpower all opponents. Girls like Joanne Kestle, Lucy Thomas, Carole Gaysunas, Pat Morse, Marylou Griffin, Joan McHugh, and Jane Caffrey sparked this year's varsity to another great season. The similar success of the junior varsity promises that next year will not break the string of undefeated games for the Newton Hockey team.

"Come on, kids, live it up," "Shoot! Shoot!" were popular cries at the basketball games. The seniors maintained their berth of honor by overpowering the lower classmen in the intra-class tourney. Among the members of the varsity squad were Joan McHugh, Pat Morse, Mary Ann O'Leary, and Marylou Griffin.

The girls really had to work to win this year. Look at the schedule! Watertown, Dana Hall, Melrose, and Cambridge. Only with such teamwork and spirit was it possible to conquer any of these opponents.

1st row: Miss Barbara Hall, Miss Barbara Davis, McDermott, Gorman, Overlock, Van Buskirk, Swanton, Praise, Ross
 2nd row: Blanchard, Crowell, Wolf, Ault, Lieberg, Axelrod, Samoylenko, Moore, Linton, Bartelles

Going — going — gone was the softball and the hopes of Newton's opponents. Good pitching and catching, batting power, and teamwork are a winning combination for any softball team. This is what Newton had under the coaching of Miss Tyson. The softball teams have been undefeated for five years, in spite of the tough competition which included Brookline, Cambridge Latin, and Melrose.

This year a large number of former varsity members returned. Among those batting for starting positions are Pat Morse, Jane Caffrey, Rita Demeo, Lucy Thomas, Nina Leone, Carole Gaysunas, Isabelle Overlock, Mary Lou Griffin, Marilyn Malkin, Dolores Carter, and Joan McHugh. With a line-up like that, who can lose!

Game, set, and match to Newton! A large group of girls turned out for the tennis practices and matches. Although Olive Tibolt, Audrey Stearns, Jane Elkind, Deborah Harvey, and Jean Cattell were the only returning letter-winners, there were many newcomers making their first public appearance. The girls played with an interest and determination which sparked them to a successful season.

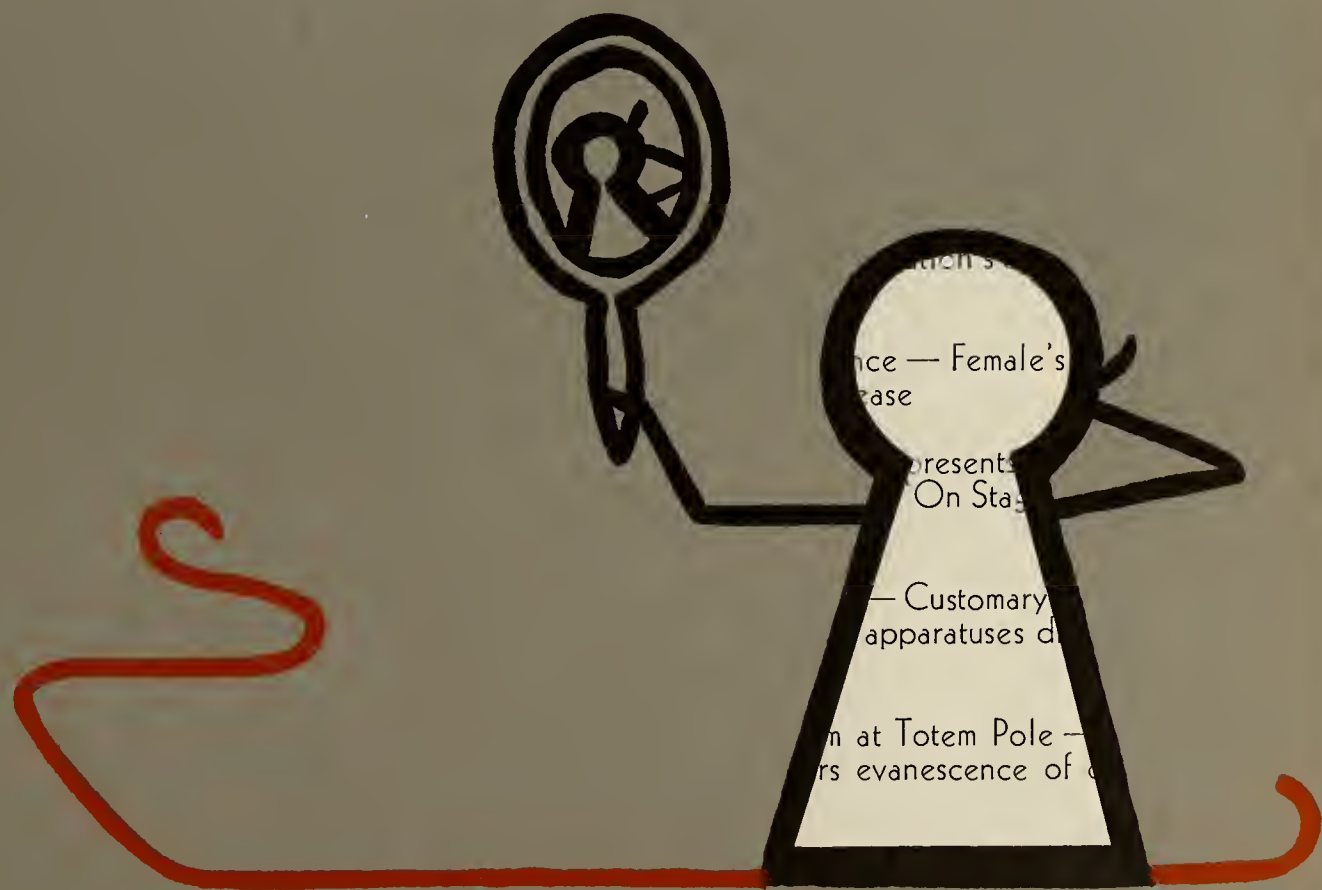

The members of the modern dance groups leaped and bounded to glory this year in many activities. Among these were "On Stage Everyone," the All-Girls' Assembly, the Symposium, and the Newton Community Chorus. As each girl progressed, she had a chance to try out for the Workshop or the Performers' group. There were seventy girls in the Apprentice Group, thirty in the Workshop, and sixteen in the Performers'. Some of the performers were Ellen Segal, Mary Jeanne Hart, Nina Leone, Sugar Wolfe, Betty Cooley, and Sheila Murphy.

Around the start of the new year, Newton High begins planning for the annual Science Fair. This year many new and varied projects attracted the attention of students and faculty. Physiology, biology, zoology, physics, and chemistry were well represented. For days before the fair rats, guinea pigs, and hamsters ran rampant in the science labs. The lack of confusion which attended the efforts of the exhibitors was a happy outcome of the devotion of faculty sponsors.

This year the class of 1952 enjoyed their Senior Prom in the pleasant surroundings of the Totem Pole, which was made available through the generosity of Mr. Gill. It was the first time that the Prom had not been held at Newton High School, and also the first time that a nationally-known orchestra had been engaged.

Sophomores, juniors, members of the faculty, and alumni all joined the seniors to dance to the music of Tommy Tucker and his orchestra. Miss South, the Senior Class adviser, and the Prom Committee, can be assured that by their efforts the Senior Prom of 1952 was a successful and memorable evening.

CLASS OF '53

Having attained the position
Of Juniors in good standing,
We need no longer listen
To upper class commanding.

Our school day is monotony
And classes tend to bore us.
We sleep through French and Botany;
Throw spit-balls during chorus.

We won't go down in history
As leaders of reform.
Or solvers of the mystery
Of variance from the norm.

Although reports are tinged with pink,
We have a secret yearning,
That someday we may learn to think
Within this house of learning!

We members of the middle class
Disdain the wretched Soph.
But when the noble Seniors pass,
Our caps we humbly doff.

Our social life is not risqué,
In spite of week-end folly.
Those spirits high on Saturday
Are Monday, melancholy.

Perhaps we ought to be conceited,
For anyone can see
The likes of us won't be repeated
Post nineteen-fifty-three.

CLASS OF '54

Down in a corner, away out of sight,
 Sat little sophomores all shaking with fright.
 "Go this way, go that way," was all that we heard.
 (Someday we'll give those old seniors the bird!)
 But soon the adjustment we started to make;
 Some of the seniors would give us a break.
 Then as the school year began to progress,
 The sophomores began to give way to distress:
 Tests and exams! — the words shattered our ear.
 It seems that they last for the whole dratted year!
 When at long last our class started to roll,
 Onto the platform did candidates stroll.
 After elections were all through and done,
 The sophomores began to get set for some fun.
 The boys gave that feminine instinct a chance,
 And off they were dragged to the great Leap Year Dance.
 The rest of the year has flown by in a rush.
 And now NHS we have left in a hush.
 But nobody really appears very sad;
 Next year's advancement will make us all glad:
 In the ninth grade to the forefront we'd sprung;
 Last year we were at a ladder's top rung.
 This year we've been at the bottom again;
 But wait until next year — revenge we'll have then.
 For down in that corner, quite hidden from view,
 Incoming sophs — we'll be waiting for you!

To Mr. Argento — a vanadium steel ruler

To Miss Patterson — a lastex leotard

To Miss Haworth — a large feedbag to catch the gold that drops from her mouth

To J. C. Hall — a short course of Rinker's English

To Mr. Somerville — a siphone

To Mr. Walters — a phonograph record which repeats at regular intervals, "That's all. Thank you. Sit down. Next."

To Dr. Land — a pocketbook edition of ordinary or extraordinary first names

To Mr. Walen — a prairie schooner

To the travelers of the Building II tunnel — asbestos suits

To the Junior and Sophomore classes — Building I, to tear apart at their leisure

To Mr. Connors — a light behind each boy that he may always have a shadow to box

To Mr. Harris — transparent desk tops to discourage clandestine S-Block dining

To Mr. Packard — a message that really does bring that long-awaited raise in salary

To Miss South — the ——— that ——— ——— (he was Javanese) stole from the ——— in the ——— century near the site of ———. (We can't give you a broader hint without telling you what it is.)

To Miss Simone — a lie-detector for those students whose acting ability comes in handy before tests

To Miss Cotton — a proof reader's manual

To Miss Thumin — the epitaph, "Why"

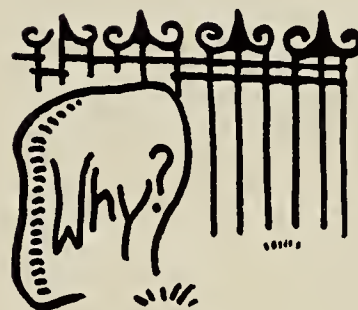

To the classes of posterity — the great Senior Supper tradition

To the football practice fields — twenty-seven tons of Vigoro

To Old Faceful, the over-zealous bubbler in the cafeteria, we leave one of the most advanced hydro-electric waterwheels so that the school may take full advantage of all that excess power

And lastly, with the fear that Mr. Barry may finally get wise to all our heinous misdeeds and snatch from us our hard-won caps and gowns in our hour to triumph, we leave in a great hurry.

We are confident that the recipient or recipients of the aforementioned items will utilize these items to the utmost extent of their value; or, as is more often the case, will take these bequests with a grain of salt, willingly supplied gratuitous by the graduating class.

Who repaired your Chevy's steering?
 (Off the road you had been veering.)
 Who fixed Jones's carburetor?
 Or the Smith's old Kelvinator?
 Who's that man whom you are hiring,
 To install much safer wiring?
 Who repaired your leaky plumbing?
 (Through the ceiling drips were coming.)
 Who fixed up your television?
 Who can weld with great precision?
 Johnson's radio needs repairing;
 Who will have it once more blaring?
 When your drain goes on the fritz and
 You think you are at your wit's end,
 Who removes those chartreuse panties
 (Doubtless just a pair of auntie's)?
 But, all kidding put aside,
 In the house where you abide,
 In the car in which you ride,
 Many jobs there do reside.
 Some skilled men must needs perform
 Tasks like these, which 'round us swarm,
 To keep life quite uniform,
 To maintain its present norm.
 We need masters of the tool,
 Graduates of our Trade School.
 Their great skills lie in their hands.
 With them they answer your demands.
 Indispensable are they
 To society today.

A POME

We have passed three years or four
 (Some of us perhaps spent more)
 In these halls of education.
 Has there been great transformation?
 We have read the ancient masters,
 Learned of Vanderbilts and Astors.
 We've the pitch on outlines topical
 And on lighting stroboscopol.
 We have tried our feet at prancing
 With that rustic form, square dancing.
 We have learned with voices ringing
 Eloquence and fine bullslinging.
 Articles constitutional!
 Particles revolutionary!
 Instruments atmospherical!
 Elements amphoterial!
 Uranium!
 Your cranium!
 Earth worms and a blue geranium!
 We tell why it's "purrfectly natural,"
 Know the movements manufactural.
 We took lessons on the kazoo,
 Learned the bound'ry from the Yazoo.
 We have tried poetic criticism,
 Tinkered with small bits of witticism.
 We know bodies astronomical
 And a few more anatomical.
 We can now locate the Bosphorus,
 Tell the valence of red phosphorus.
 We have read De Bello Gallico,
 Made in home ec dresses calico.
 Orbits electronical!
 Airplanes supersonical!
 Rudimentary corollaries!
 Thirteenth century monasteries!
 Half-speed jabs!
 Horse shoe crabs!
 Julius Caesar's twenty-six stabs!
 We no longer get hysterical
 Over volumes of the spherical.
 We solve problems quite quadratical
 And recite the tartrate radical.
 We know essays allegorical
 And the elements rhetorical.
 Yet in spite of so much knowledge,
 Some still want to go to college.

The time has rolled around again,
That awful time each year
When seniors have to leave for good,
Seldom to reappear.
It's toughest for me, the NOTWEN,
With a special concern for you all —
By gosh, I've been working my darndest
To keep you "off of" the ball!
It comes as a terrible blow to hear,
As you file past in solemn two's,
That in spite of my work, you've passed, not failed!
I've got those gra-a-uation blues.

I stole the batch of diplomas
To eat, and thereby destroy;
But I couldn't digest the seals with the rest,
And the paper my throat did annoy.
I guess I am just being selfish,
Trying to induce you to stay;
I'll not let myself wipe out your dreams,
So go — but hurry away!
I'd do anything to bring you joy —
I'd cut off a right arm — I would!
Just try to think of me once in a while;
Good-by, good luck, be good.
